

THE GOLDEN RIVER

Yugveer Singh

The Mysteries of the Golden River

TATVAM
PUBLICATIONS

THE GOLDEN RIVER

A Children's Adventure Story

Copyright

ISBN: 978-81-68522-3-8

Published by Tatvam Publications, Pune

© All Rights Reserved.

Price: ₹250

About Tatvam Publications

Tatvam Publications is an academic and creative publishing house based in Pune, India. Dedicated to promoting quality literature, educational resources, research publications, and children's books, the publishing house provides a platform for emerging authors and encourages creative storytelling.

With a commitment to excellence, Tatvam Publications strives to produce engaging, reader-friendly, and value-based publications that inspire learning, imagination, and a lifelong love for reading.

Contents

| Chapter No. | Title                      | Page No. |
|--------------------|-----------------------------------|-----------------|
| 1                  | The Mystery of the Golden River   | 1-6             |
| 2                  | Task One: The Blood Frames        | 7-9             |
| 3                  | Task Two: The Walking Statues     | 10-13           |
| 4                  | Task Three: The Blood River       | 14-16           |
| 5                  | Task Four: The Blood Moon Monster | 17-19           |
| 6                  | Task Five: Walnevar's Brother     | 20-22           |
| 7                  | Task Six: The Golden King         | 23-25           |
| 8                  | The Final Victory                 | 26-27           |

Chapter 1:

The Mystery of Golden River

A 10-year-old boy named Ocred Rodnev lived in the dark streets of Firewood Town. He was fascinated by mysteries and loved exploring unknown places. His next goal was the Golden River. He wanted to find the treasure hidden beneath the Golden River. People believed that whoever went beneath the river never returned. But Ocred was not afraid. He continued his journey.

He camped near the Golden River. As night fell, he heard strange voices echoing around him. Mysterious shadows surrounded the area. Suddenly, one night, a huge, frightening shadow grabbed him. "Ah! Save me!" he cried loudly.

After struggling for some time, Ocred finally managed to free himself from the shadow.

He thought, "I must uncover the deeper mysteries of this river." But first, he needed to find the entrance. He even tried jumping into the river, but nothing happened. He tried several other ways, but none of them worked.

At last, he noticed a small button. Curious, he pressed it, and a hidden entrance slowly opened before him. Without thinking twice, Ocred stepped inside. Little did he know that beyond the entrance lay a world filled with dangerous challenges and mysterious adventures.

When Ocred entered the river, he saw paintings made of blood. As he went deeper, he came across a young boy.

"Hello. You shouldn't be here," said the boy.

"If you enter this cave, you must complete six tasks and collect six keys. But it won't be easy. Each key comes with a dangerous challenge. You will gain your freedom only after collecting all six keys. In the final task, you must fight the Golden King."

"What is his name?" Ocred asked.

"I cannot tell you his name out loud because, if we say it loudly, the dark shadows will attack us."

"Come closer," the boy said softly. "I will whisper it in your ear."

"Lord Walnevar," he whispered. "What is your name?" the boy asked.

"My name is Ocred. What is yours?" "My name is Raizen," replied the boy.

Chapter 2

Task 1: The Rule of Blood Frames

The next morning, they heard a frightening voice.

"Okay, Ocred, now you have to complete your first task. Take this sword and move forward."

Ocred and Raizen moved forward together. For the first ten minutes, they saw nothing. Then, suddenly, they came across a group of terrifying, blood-covered monsters.

"Okay, Ocred, attack! Attack!" shouted Raizen.

"Oh no!" cried Ocred.

With courage, Ocred fought the monsters and defeated them all. They continued walking for another hour.

At last, they came face to face with a huge blood-covered monster. Ocred fought bravely for nearly twenty minutes before finally defeating it.

As he moved ahead, he noticed a red button. He pressed it, and a bright, shining golden key appeared in front of him.

Ocred picked up the key. As soon as he did, the entrance to the next task opened before them.

Chapter 3

Task 2: The Walking Statues

"Ocred, wow! You are very intelligent! Now you have to fight the Dark Statues. Take this lighter," a mysterious voice said.

"But what can a lighter do against the Dark Statues?" Ocred asked.

"I don't know, Ocred," said Raizen. "Let's try it. Don't worry."

As they entered the cave, they were surprised to see that the statues were moving.

"Let's fight them with our strength," said Ocred.

"No, I don't think that's a good idea," replied Raizen.

"Let's try. Don't be afraid," said Ocred.

They bravely fought the walking statues with their bare hands, but nothing happened. They tried again and again, using different ideas, but none of them worked.

At last, Ocred took out the lighter. "Let's try this," he said.

They tried to light it, but it would not work.

"Please save us! Save us!" cried Ocred. Just then, an idea came to his mind. "Let's try lighting the lighter in water," said Ocred.

"How can a lighter work in water?" asked Raizen in surprise.

"I don't know, but let's try. Our lives depend on it!" Ocred replied.

They dipped the lighter into a bottle of water.

"Tick... tick... tick..."

Suddenly, a bright flame appeared. "How? No way!"

shouted Raizen. "That's impossible! The lighter is burning underwater. Ocred, you are a genius!"

Using the magical flame, Ocred and Raizen defeated all the walking statues.

Then the mysterious voice echoed through the cave,

"Congratulations! You have completed the second task. Take this golden key and move on to the third task."

Chapter 4

Chapter 4

Task 3: The Blood River

"Ocred, for your third task, you have to swim across the Blood River and find the golden key. Are you ready?" the mysterious voice asked.

"Yes!" shouted Ocred and Raizen together.

"Three... two... one... Go!"

Without wasting a moment, Ocred and Raizen dived into the Blood River.

"There are piranhas in this river. That is why it is called the Blood River," the cave said in a deep voice.

"What?" cried Ocred.

"Fast! Fast! Swim faster!" shouted Raizen.

They swam as quickly as they could.

"Oh no!" cried Ocred. "A piranha has taken my bag! Someone, save my bag!"

Raizen looked at him and shouted angrily, "What is more important—your bag or your freedom?"

"Okay, sorry! I'll find the key," Ocred replied.

He searched carefully as he swam through the river.

"Yay! Yay! Yay! I found the key!" Ocred shouted with joy.

"Wow! Well done, Ocred!" said Raizen. "You have completed the third task."

Just then, the cave echoed in a deep, heavy voice,

"Excellent, Ocred. You have successfully completed the third task. Now it is time for your fourth task. Move forward and continue your journey."

Chapter 5

Task 4: The Blood Moon Monster

"Your fourth task is to fight the Blood Moon Monster using these bombs," the mysterious voice said.

"Okay, we will," replied Ocred.

"We need to do it quickly. Only six hours are left before the day ends. I am happy that I can complete all six tasks in a single day," Ocred said to himself.

"Let's go, Raizen," he said.

The two friends continued their journey. At last, they reached the place where the Blood Moon Monster was waiting for them.

"Attack! Attack! The monster is coming!" shouted Raizen.

Without wasting any time, Ocred threw one of the bombs.
Boom!

The monster fell to the ground.

"We did it!" said Ocred happily. "That was easier than I expected."

Just then, a hidden passage opened before them, leading to their next adventure—Task 5.

Chapter 6

Task 5: The Brother of the Golden King, Walnevar

"Ocred! Now you have to fight Walnevar's brother," the cave said.

"What?" cried Ocred.

"Don't worry. We are a team. We can do it," said Raizen confidently.

"Okay, let's do it," replied Ocred.

They moved forward and soon came face to face with Walnevar's brother.

He laughed loudly. "Ha ha ha! You can't defeat me! Come on, let's begin the fight. Do you really think you can defeat me? Ha ha ha!"

Ocred fought with all his strength, but he was no match for Walnevar's powerful brother.

Suddenly, Ocred remembered that the cave had given him a nuclear bomb during the fourth task. He quickly took it out and threw it at Walnevar's brother.

Three seconds later...

Boom!

Walnevar's brother was defeated, and blood splattered onto Ocred.

"Eew!" said Ocred. He quickly washed the blood off with the water flowing from a nearby river.

Just then, the cave echoed with a deep voice,

"Excellent, Ocred! You have successfully completed the fifth task. Now you must face the final and most difficult challenge—Task 6. You have to fight Walnevar himself."

the last and the hardest task. Task 16. You have to fight with Wargod, the savage echoed.

Chapter 7

Task 6: The Golden King

"Three... two... one... I summon Lord Walnevar!" the mysterious voice echoed through the cave.

"Hahaha! I am Walnevar! I am an unstoppable monster. Come and fight me! Ha ha ha! Come on! I want to defeat you. Come quickly!" roared Walnevar.

Without thinking, Raizen charged at Walnevar. But Walnevar was too powerful. He threw Raizen onto a bed of sharp spikes. Sadly, Raizen lost his life.

Filled with anger and determination, Ocred raised his mighty sword and charged at Walnevar.

After a fierce battle...

Boom!

Ocred defeated Walnevar.

It was a great victory. Because of Ocred's courage, all the trapped people were finally set free. Ocred also gained his freedom and returned home.

When he reached home, he realized that he had been inside the Golden River for one whole month.

"But how is that possible?" he wondered.

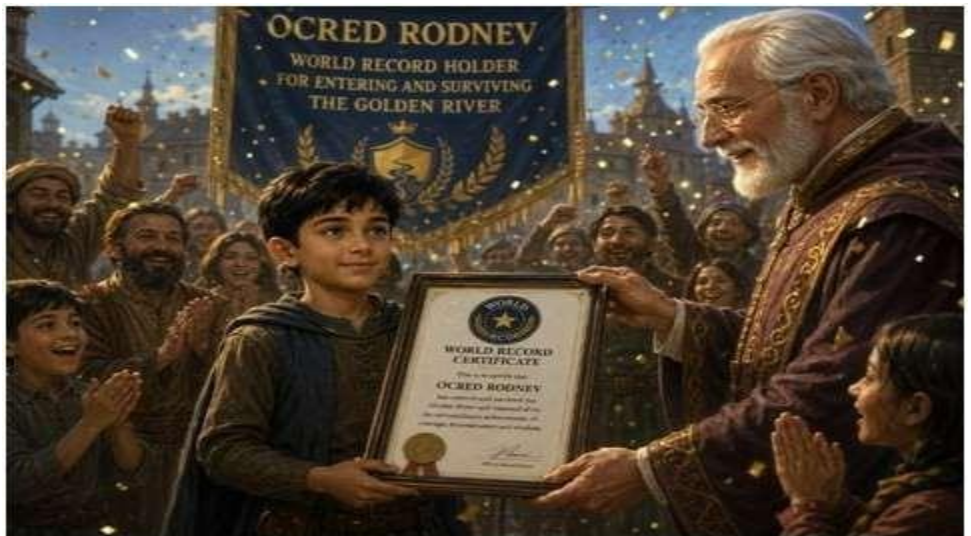

His friend explained, "Time moves much more slowly inside the Golden River."

Ocred had not only won his freedom but had also discovered the hidden treasure beneath the Golden River.

Chapter 8 The Big Victory

A few days later, Ocred received a World Record Certificate for being the first person to enter the Golden River and return alive.

His courage, determination, and intelligence made him a true hero. The people of Firewood Town celebrated his remarkable achievement, and Ocred's adventure became a legendary story that inspired everyone.

Moral of the Story

Courage, determination, intelligence, and friendship help us overcome even the greatest challenges.

The Golden River

No one can escape.

A Golden King stands guard to stop anyone from escaping. Now, Ocred must break free from the river.

6 keys.

6 tasks.

Let's see how Ocred will escape from the clutches of the river.

THE GOLDEN RIVER

Written by Yugveer Singh

About the Author

Yugveer Singh Sonali Sagar Doifode is a bright and creative 10-year-old student studying in the 5th Standard. He loves using his imagination to create exciting stories filled with adventure, mystery, courage, and fun. He enjoys building imaginative fictional worlds where young heroes face challenges, solve mysteries, and discover amazing treasures.

Through his stories, Yugveer hopes to inspire children to be curious, confident, creative, and courageous.

Apart from writing, Yugveer has a keen interest in art and music. He enjoys expressing his ideas through drawing, storytelling, and other creative activities. He loves sharing his imagination with his friends and encouraging them to dream big and believe in themselves.

The Golden River is a reflection of Yugveer's rich imagination, creativity, and passion for storytelling. He hopes that readers of all ages will enjoy this exciting adventure and discover the magic of imagination along the way.